Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

4. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Art Unit: 2876

5. Claims 16 and 58 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. The claim recites, "a system further comprising a non-gaming device that indicates a purchase, gift, or award", however this limitation is not describe in the specification. Therefore, the examiner believes that the 35 U. S. C. 112, first paragraph rejection is appropriate.

Double Patenting

6. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

7. Claims 1-15, 17-57, and 59-105 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-15, 17-57, and 59-105 of copending Application No. 09/551,680 (hereinafter '680). Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both the present claimed invention and the '680 Application teaches a system and method for securely storing and controlling the dispensing of a payout comprising, among other things, a payout dispenser, for securely storing and dispensing a payout; a terminal, for controlling the dispensing of the payout, connected to the payout dispenser and to interface with a non-player attendant in connection with the payout; communication link for interconnecting the payout dispenser and the terminal; a gaming device connected to the payout dispenser and the terminal, and a network for interconnecting the gaming device with the payout dispenser and the terminal; a payout breakage dispenser that dispenses payout breakage denominations smaller than the payout dispenser denomination; and a printer for printing a record of a system transaction.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

8. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

10. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

11. Claims 10-12, 26-28, 52-54, and 71-73 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Luciano et al (US 6,168,521). The teachings of Luciano et al have been discussed above.

Luciano fails to specifically teach or fairly suggest wherein the payout dispenser terminal communication link includes data lines, wireless connections or fiber optic connections; and wherein the data lines comprise a dedicated line, T1 line or frame relay line. It would have been an obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use a communication link including data lines, wireless connections or fiber optic connections, since applicant has not disclosed that choosing a specific one of these communication links solves any stated problem or is for any particular purpose and it appears that the invention would perform equally well with either feature. Thus, it would have been an obvious expedient to provide a communication link including data lines, wireless connections or fiber optic connections, as it would have been a matter of a design choice of the manufacturer.

Conclusion

12. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Saunders et al (US 6,340,331) discloses a cashless peripheral device for a gaming system.

Heidel et al (US 6,289,261) discloses a gaming machine payout dispensing system and method.

Walker et al (US 6,113,492) discloses a gaming device for operating in a reverse payout mode.

Walker et al (US 6,001,016) discloses a remote gaming device.
